GOES TO FAR OFF CHINA.

Miss Etta Montgomery of Tepeka Will Take Charge of a Mission School.

A Topeka young lady had her picture and a half-column sketch of herself in a New York Herald this week. She is Miss Etta Montgomery, formerly principal of Topeka school and financial secretary of the Topeka Young Women's Christian association. Miss Montgomery has been for a year or more a successful worker at missions among the alums in New York City. She is about to start as a missionary to China and has undergone a complete course of training for that purpose. She will start about August 1st. The Herald said in part:

"Miss Etta Montgomery will leave this city on August 1st on her way to China, where she expects to spend the next ten years of her life in missionary work among the Chinese girls.

*Miss Montgomery will visit friends in Nebraska and her mother in New Mexico, then go on to San Francisco and sail from there in September. Her work will be done on the island of Hainan, just off the coast of China. This field is comparatively new and is entirely under the supervision of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

"A boarding school for girls will be established on the island, of which Miss Montgomery will have entire charge. Her only assistant will be a trained native woman. There will be a day school in connection with the academy and the work will be chiefly along educational lines, although Miss Montgomery has taken a year's course of training at the International Medical Missionary society, that she may be prepared in an emergency to minister to the physical as well as the spiritual needs of those under her charge."

YARBOROUGH RELEASED.

Let Out of the Penitentiary After Eight Years Incarceration.

Governor Lowelling has signed the pardon releasing from the state penitentiary James H. Yarborough, who was serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of L. D. Collier at Emporia, November 23, 1884.

Yarborough and Collier were both employed in the local offices of the Santa Fe at Emporia at the time the murder was committed. They quarreled during the afternoon about their work and in the evening Yarborough shot Collier at the home of H. V. Bundrem, calling him to the door and shooting him down in cold blood.

The murdered man was a son of Robert Laird Collier, of New York. The friends of Yarborough have been for three years trying to secure this pardon which the old board of pardons refused to recommend. The murder was totally unprovoked and there is no good reason why Yarborough should have been released. It will only tend to encourage others to kill their enemies with the certain knowledge that they will be let out of the penitentiary after a few years. The ground on which the pardon was

The ground on which the petition was granted is placed at temporary insanity. The judge and prosecuting attorneys and a host of prominent men, strange as it may seem, asked for executive clemency.
